Click on the Comments tab to comment on the application

You will find some top tips here to help you submit your comments

If you have used our online services to comment on planning applications previously, you will already have created an account. You will not be able to register again and will need to reset your password if you have forgotten it.

To do this, click on Login and make a comment and on the next tab, click Forgotten Password? and follow the instructions.

I have submitted my comment, but the Public Comments counter is showing zero

The public comments counter only works where all comments are submitted through our online portal. Where customers continue to use other channels, the counter will not update and will not accurately show the number of contributions received.

How do I know you have received my comments?

You will receive an email documenting the comments you have made and confirming that they have been received.

I want the planning officer to answer my questions

We are unable to respond to each comment and question submitted individually.

However, all comments will be addressed in the planning officer's report, and this will be considered by the Planning Committee. If you submit comments and provide your postal address, we will let you know when the Planning Committee will consider the application. Residents are welcome to attend the meeting if they wish to.

Who can see my comments?

We are required by law to give access to comments when asked. This does not affect our duty to protect personal data and we will not share your name, email address or telephone number with others, where these have been provided. It's important to make sure you don't add anything in your comments that is personal in nature and that you would not want shared with others.

Where is my data stored?

Your comments will be recorded in our Idox planning system and stored in our secure Document Management System. The planning case officer will also receive a copy direct to their mailbox. If the applicant appeals the Council's decision, any comments received will be shared with the Planning Inspectorate.

The portal is showing an error message and I cannot submit my comments

We are expecting widespread interest in this application and there may be times when the service is slow or unresponsive due to others using the system. We have given everyone extra time to submit their comments to allow for this.

Check you have logged in – your name will appear in the grey bar on the screen. If you have recently registered to use the online service, check your email inbox, and make sure to verify your account.

TIP: Write your comments in a word document before starting the online submission process. There is a 10,000-character limit. Doing this means you will be less likely to encounter any time-out problems and you won't lose your information.

If you are still experiencing difficulties, the following options are available:

	For guidance and support in using the online comments portal, click on the Enfield logo to return to the home page and use our Live Chat service. This is a help line, and we will not be able to record or submit your comments through this channel.
