Dear Sir/Madam,

I have a question about the local plan. I'm referring to this document:

<https://governance.enfield.gov.uk/documents/s87758/PL%2020.145.%20Council%20-%20Reg%2018%20Enfield%20Local%20Plan.pdf>

Page 9: Need to plan for the long term future

44. Some of the key growth areas identified in the draft ELP will not deliver all their development in the plan period up to 2039. These include Meridian Water (planned c 10,000 homes to 2045-55), Crews Hill (c 7,500 homes in total) and Chase Park (c 4300 in total). In addition, projects such as the new proposed employment land at Junction 24 and the rewilding plans to support the Rural Enfield London National Park City area will require a longterm view covering more than 15 years.

*So does this mean you are not planning housing at Meridian Water until 2045-55?

*Why is there a delay in housing development on this location?

*What urban and brownfield sites are in the current local plan period for housing development, as I can't see any actual plans or numbers for dwellings or commercial/industrial development?

Page 8, point 41: Two new placemaking areas in the existing rural areas focussed around Crews Hill and Chase Park together accommodating c. 6,000 new homes in this plan period.

*So 6000 home are planned for Crews Hill and Chase Park in this plan period and then an additional 5,800 in the next plan period, taking it to a total of 11,800 by 2045-55?

Thank you so much for your clarification.

Kind regards,
