Well you're consulting us but will you really take any notice-Enfield Council?

I wasn't able to find exact plans, perhaps it hasn't reached that stage? But I'm firmly opposed to destruction and re-development of Crews Hill! Any plan that just disregards Crews Hill businesses affects a lot of people round here. I'm a Barnet resident (which could be why I'm a bit out of the loop) and have been going there for Garden supplies all my adult life (all 50+ years of it since I'm currently 70). Family who are Enfield residents (as I was for all of my non-adult years) have too. I cannot imagine NOT visiting Thompsons and Springtime and Wyvale (British Garden Centre?), Woldens and all the others. It can be a day out if you want it to be; there are brilliant cafes and all sorts of things closely and vaguely related to gardens and outdoor life! That place is epic! Don't take it away.!

How's destroying such a centre of British culture and economic activity gonna help the local and national Economy recover? This place is comparable to a shopping Centre-you wouldn't just build over one of those!! As much money must change hands and it's a part of the local culture. Gardening & sheds and pets ect are part of British culture!! Homes can be built on Enfield's many Brownfield sites!!! I suspect that's not profitable enough for the developers?!! But is that all that's at stake here? Is that all we care about? Homes can be built around the Garden centres and small businesses of Crews Hill. Now-that would grow the area without destroying it-which it what appears to be currently proposed!! Please leave those iconic Streets (Cattlegate Road and Theobald Park Rd) as they are!....
