Dear all,

I wish to express my opposition to building on green spaces, as proposed in the Draft Plan. We very much value Enfield for its green spaces, that is why we chose to live here – we frequently enjoy spaces such as Vicarage Farm for walks. We feel strongly that these should be preserved for our children to use, and for future generations.

May I add my dismay at the online consultation survey 'Let's Talk: Enfield Local Plan'. English is my first language, I have a University education, yet I do not understand many of the terms in the survey. I have never heard the terms 'spatial portrait' and 'placemaking area' before – and that's just the first two pages, I gave up after that. How can someone with English as a second language hope to fill in the survey? It seems designed to ensure a low response.
