First to say you 'bespoke local plan link' does not work so I would argue your consultation is faulty.

Second I would disagree with the premise that the houses you say are needed are required. The figures are old and prebrexit. We should be encouraging control of the birth rate too as this is the best thing to help climate change.

Third I would disagree with ANY building on the green belt. This is irreplaceable and essential to maintain as it is. Any building encourages more. Even on the so called 'poor quality' areas building will simply mean the contiguous area becomes poor quality and once the principal is formed this will then become open for building.

Fourth I would argue against high rise blocks in Enfield Town. This is an historic area and any building over 5 or 6 storeys is quite out of place here. The civic centre being a terrible example.
