

---

Noooooooooo to building on Green Belt.

Once gone never to return is that what you want to be remembered for.

High rise if necessary but surrounded by green spaces and allotments for those who want to garden. Enfield used to be known for its greenery, don't lose that reputation completely.

Be a borough who shows the way by identifying and building on brownfill sites rather than destroying our countryside