Re Enfield Local Plan Consultation

I strongly object to the proposal to build on Enfield's Green Belt, surely you realise that concreting over our fields and woods does nothing to help stop the effects of global warming plus it will entail thousands more vehicles polluting the atmosphere and jamming up the borough even more than it does now. The loss of so much that is good far outweighs tens of thousands of incomers who care nothing for our borough.

The M25 acts as a barrier around London and in most cases can only be crossed by roundabouts which cause delays, air pollution and stress to all here. Thousands of houses at Crews Hill would bring junction 25 on the M25 to a complete stop which is already happening.

The green belt was created by people with far more foresight than today's planners who appear to wish only to inflict their ideas on us residents who's objections mean little or nothing to them.
