Good Evening

As an Oakwood resident, who uses the Green Belt land to the North of Bramley Road for amenity purposes, I wish to register my strong objection to the proposed developments in this area. Surely there is sufficient brown field development sites in the Borough to accommodate the extra housing required - which is in any event probably an over-estimate given that people are leaving London for more rural areas.

We already have the abominable developments planned for Cockfosters and Southgate to content with - with no obvious plans for infrastructure enhancement to cater for increased population.

Enfield Chase is of significant historical importance, and should remain untouched for future generations.
