My husband and I would like to OBJECT in the strongest possible terms the plan to develop the Green Belt in the centre of the conservation area of Hadley Wood.

At a time when environmental problems are at the forefront of Government policy it seems criminal to be thinking of releasing carbon from the land anywhere in Enfield. It would seem that a tree planting scheme would be far more appropriate

Hadley Wood also suffers from considerable water presence and by building over the site which is a hill I can imagine that this will cause considerable flooding.

There is also very little infrastructure to accommodate a development of this size.
