What on earth are Enfield Council doing?

The use of the Firs Farm wetlands by the community has greatly increased the mental well being of residents in the locality and has contributed much to the education of young children. The spending of the money to create the wetlands has been a beneficial move only to be wasted should the plans for another crematorium go ahead. Additionally the use of many of the car parks to build flats on will only have detrimental effects on the borough in general especially for shoppers visiting the borough. Obviously lack of thought or even consideration for residents and visitors is shown by the borough. A good example is the huge traffic congestion issues created by the formation of LTN's and cycles lanes which are completely underused.
