

---

I strongly object to the building of houses on the Sainsbury's land. People need the supermarket which is often extremely busy.

The trees are also protected and should not be cut down.

Doctors' surgeries are already highly booked and more prospective patients would make access to doctors even more difficult than at present.