

I am not sure if these is a joke but how on earth could you think this is even a good idea. People need to go to supermarket to do their Weekley shop. There are way more cons that put weigh the pros and it's actually called so much upset.

Imagine if this was the only supermarket and space you could get to, which is comfortable to you and ease of parking.

Imagine if you had mental health problems and just doing this routine of going to this supermarket and being able to park and go in peacefully would be.

Imagine the pollution with what you want to do with this. Is it not bad enough how even getting out my one way around to be sitting in traffic for 20 mins because of all the road blocks.

There is zero logic in the road blocks.

I just don't understand how people could some up with such dense ideas and no consideration for people are suffering and this brainless ideas. Why not looking at ways to help people, the enviroment, education and community.

Please take some time to really think about what you are doing here.
