

Another sham from Enfield council, how can you think getting rid of Sainsburys for more housing is a good idea? Where will these people shop?, More traffic on the roads - the ones you might allow people to drive down. More pressure on schools and medical facilitiesahhhh

You have already made our high street nothing more than a place to gamble and eat fast foods and now this.

Do you EVER consider the people who live in the area and what they need, rather than what you as a council can do to make more money.

Its nothing but a disgrace, I have lived in the borough of Enfield for over 50 years and the change and lack of care, consideration has made me start looking at other areas where your needs are considered.

STOP THIS ACTION
