

---

More traffic and more crowding. And yet more green space being lost to the developers.

The Government should be encouraging development in the Red Wall constituencies and not piling more and more people and traffic into London.

I will have to drive further for my weekly shop too!