

Hi,

I wanted to particularly support the golf course as an ideal place to build homes. This is land right beside London that can be linked up to public transport and permit efficient, dense housebuilding. It is totally wasted as yet another golf course.

Best regards,