

I object to the benefits of the green belt to Enfield being taken away because of the negative impact that it would have on the whole borough. Twenty five thousand new homes is a lot more than just 25,000 people to an area that is already over loaded and under resourced. Enfield has already been changed detrimentally. Because Edmonton Green has been ruined beyond all recognition why should Enfield Town have to go the same way? In addition, the green belt provides necessary green space for families to enjoy along with the wildlife.
