

Dear Sir/Madam,

Henry VIII, I think it is fair to say wasn't a particularly nice man. That said, he did at least appreciate Enfield's green spaces, and he certainly didn't exact some kind of purge on them like your Council, (which I regret to say I voted for) are proposing to do. The ongoing development near Hadley Road, the abomination that is the development around Trent Park, (with its laughably called 'affordable housing') and now the possible development of both Crews Hill and the Green Belt land between Oakwood and the Ridgeway. It's quite staggering to think that you are making the Tories look like the good guys here, but you actually are. I'm sure you are well aware that this is a deeply unpopular proposal, (apart from with the developers, who are rubbing their hands with glee) and most people around here think the plan stinks to high heaven.

I urge you to reconsider these proposals, they are highly divisive, and amount to environmental vandalism at a time when politicians are normally all too eager to show off their green credentials.
